

ALERT: Support and Defend DACA Recipients

September 5, 2017

Dear Colleagues,

Today, the Trump Administration announced its decision to end the legal immigration status of nearly 800,000 young people who have benefitted from the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrival (DACA) program over the past five years. We are alarmed by the significant detrimental impact this will have on individuals, families and communities across the country.

Without congressional action to enact a legislative replacement for DACA, young people who were brought to this country as children over ten years ago, and who have studied, lived, worked in, and contributed to our nation will be forced to live their lives in constant fear that they will be deported at any moment and separated from their families and communities.

We are sending a letter (copied below) to Members of Congress to explain that ending the DACA program would be especially devastating for survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault.

Now, more than ever, we need your help! It is long past time for Congress to protect and defend DACA recipients living, working, and raising families in the United States. Urge Congress to support the bipartisan Dream Act of 2017 (H.R. 3440 and S. 1615) to defend the 800,000 DACA recipients and to enact policies that strengthen families and communities. Call your two Senators and your Representative and ask them to get to work on this important issue and pass the Dream Act of 2017 now!

TAKE ACTION!

1. Find your Member of Congress here and ask them to protect and defend DACA recipients and pass the bipartisan DREAM Act of 2017 (H.R. 3440 and S. 1615).
2. Use this letter as a template and draft op-eds for your local newspaper highlighting the connection between DACA protections and the needs of domestic and sexual violence survivors and lift up your voice to defend DACA.
3. Post your statement on social media. Use these sample posts with the hashtag #DefendDACA

- DREAMers are students, teachers, first responders, veterans & more. They are integral to our communities. #DefendDACA #HeretoStay
- DACA has helped nearly 800,000 young people pursue higher ed., earn better wages, support their families. #DefendDACA
- DACA & other immigration relief helps protect survivors from deportation & helps survivors feel safe enough to report abuse. #DefendDACA

Dear Members of Congress:

The National Task Force to End Sexual and Domestic Violence (NTF)* urges Congress to respect and protect the recipients of the Deferred Action for Child Arrivals (DACA) program. We ask that you support bipartisan legislation to provide legal status as well as a permanent pathway to citizenship for the hundreds of thousands of undocumented immigrants who came here as children with their families, and call the United States home.

We are alarmed by the significant detrimental impact of the Trump Administration's announcement today that it plans to rescind the DACA program. Without congressional action to enact legislation in a timely manner, DACA recipients will be forced to live their lives in constant fear that they will be deported at any moment and separated from their families and communities. The NTF calls on our national policymakers to work together to forge a bi-partisan, humane national immigration policy that furthers the commitment we all made when the Violence Against Women Act was passed and then reauthorized. No legislator willingly works against supporting victims of violence or preventing and ending domestic and sexual assault. That is why we encourage you to work together to craft immigration relief that prevents future abuse and exploitation, promotes public trust, and makes communities safer.

Since its inception in 2012, DACA has provided nearly 800,000 young people in the United States the opportunity to pursue an education, obtain work authorization, start small businesses, serve in the military, and make significant contributions to their communities. In order to be granted DACA, these young people passed extensive background checks and were required to be enrolled in school, graduate from high school, or serve in the armed forces for our country. DACA recipients are fully integrated and essential members of our communities – we only need to look to those on the front lines responding to Hurricane Harvey to see their valuable contributions to our country.

Advocates for survivors of sexual assault and domestic violence have reported that DACA and other forms of immigration relief are critical to protecting our communities and helping survivors feel secure and stable so that they can rebuild their lives and be economically self-sufficient.ⁱ A recent survey of more than 700 advocates and attorneys revealed that immigrant survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault are often afraid to come forward and access help.ⁱⁱ Safeguarding DACA and other immigration relief will protect individuals from deportation and allow survivors and witnesses of crimes like domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking to feel safe to report crimes to police without fear that seeking justice will put them at risk of being deported.

Further, an estimated 685,000 DACA recipients are legally employed in and contributing to the United States economy.ⁱⁱⁱ If DACA is allowed to lapse and Congress fails to authorize immigration reform that provides these undocumented immigrants a path to legal immigration status, hundreds of thousands of individuals will be at greater risk of exploitation and abuse at work, local economies will suffer, and our nation will lose over 433 billion in GDP over the next decade.^{iv} Low wages and wage theft, as well as unsafe working conditions—including sexual harassment and violence and human trafficking—are rife in many low-wage industries that employ high numbers of undocumented immigrants.

Access to work authorization, driver's licenses, and education—opportunities available through DACA—also increase a survivor's economic independence. In one survey, three quarters of women in abusive relationships reported staying with their partner for economic reasons.^v A driver's license provides a means of access to jobs, vocational programs, and other educational opportunities, and decreases the ability of abusers to control and exploit immigrant survivors. Work authorization increases immigrant survivors' economic security, helps survivors support their families, and helps grow and support the economy of our nation.

It is long past time for Congress to protect and defend DACA recipients who were brought to this country as children and are now living, working, and raising families in the United States. The Dream Act of 2017 would grant legal status to young people who arrived in the United States before they turned 18, allowing individuals the opportunity to live and work in the United States permanently. We urge Congress to support the bipartisan Dream Act of 2017 (H.R. 3440 and S. 1615), to defend the 800,000 DACA recipients who have contributed to and made the United States their home, and to enact policies that strengthen families and communities. We also urge you to continue to work in a bipartisan manner towards the larger legislative reform of our nation's immigration laws that is desperately needed to provide a just, common sense, and humane solution to the current crisis.

*The NTF is comprised of national, state, tribal, territorial and local leadership organizations and advocates working to end domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking.
